

Earth in Crisis - Finding Balance

Environmental Catastrophe in the Light of Ancient Traditional Teachings August 28, 2010 Indigenous Cultures Day at Lama Foundation

Indigenous peoples the world over share many things in common: values, social structures, ceremonies of thanksgiving and healing, and traditional teachings about living on the earth in a sacred way. In this time, when our earth is threatened as never before in human history, let us come together to reexamine the teachings passed on by the Ancient Ones, in light of our present environmental crisis.

Talks, Ceremony, Music, Dance, Prayer

Presenters to include: The ICCS, SD Youngwolf, Danza Azteca de Anahuac, Kipatsi Indigenous from Peru, Chief Marvin Swallow, Pat McCabe, John Kimmy, and others

9AM to 5PM at the Lama Foundation

Lunch will be served at noon - $20 suggested donation

Everyone is welcome - to share, to listen, and to participate in healing our Earth and finding our way to a brighter future. Speakers, musicians, dancers, and participants of all kinds are invited. Those who wish to listen and to learn are invited. For more information, email SD Youngwolf at sdyoungwolf@hotmail.com

This event is sponsored by the Lama Foundation and the International Center for Cultural Studies

For info about Lama, please email info@lamafoundation.org or call 575-586-1269

For info about the ICCS please visit www.iccsus.org